Ohio Legislator Declares Line Between Truth and Falsehood Is Not Scrupulously Drawn - Insists Adequate Reform Will Be Attained When Man Takes Calmer Views,

Asserting that sensationalism is the principal fault of newspapers of the present day, Senator Burton, of Ohio, concluded an address before a large audience in the New National Theater yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Y.

Senator Burton said, in part: "Modern sensationalism has its origin in the desire for that which is startling and exciting. It delights in the abnormal and repul sive, and gloats over the narration of thrilling situation and even of atrociou

BANKHEAD HITS BACK.

Quotes from Predecessor in Reply to John E. Knox.

Senator Bankhead, of Alabama, who will have a strong opposition for reelection next year, has replied to the letter sent to the people of the State by John E. Knox, a lawyer of Anniston, who has announced his candidacy for Senatorship. Senator Bankhead quotes from the classic of his predecessor, the late Senator Pettus, in chastisement of Senator Beveridge following one of his early oratorical efforts. Senator Bankhead

"Mr. Knox says I have taken no part in the debates in the Senate or the House, and therefore I am no orator. I leave that to the Congressional Record and to the result. I want to remind him of pers were brought into the programme what one of the wisest and most beloved with an alleged musical rendition that men in Alabama ever sent to the Senate started something like this: said about the Senatorial orders, the late lamented W. E. W. Pettus. After Senator Beveridge made his first oratorical effort in the Senate, Senator Pettus arose and

He speaks well. And they took Aaron along, not in command. That was not allowed, but they tock him along as a kind of deputy, and when Moses on his Master's order went up in the mountains for the tables the orator left in charge had a golden calf framed. (Laughter.)

"And he put all the people down to worshipping the now golden calf. (Laughter.) More people worship the golden calf than they did in those days, but while Aaron and his people were all down worshiping the golden calf the man of God appeared and he pulled out his sword and demanded to know who was on the Lord's side, and the orator jumped up from his knees, drew his sword, got on Moses' side, and went to killing Israelites along with Moses. All these orators will do the same thing. (Laughter.) The last one of them. We saw an instance of it Saturday after-

THE MEAT BOYCOTT.

O butcher, spare that steer! Touch not a single horn! We've sworn, for half a year, to live on beans and corn; to live on oatmeal cake and prunes and succotash; no more for us the steak, no more the corn beef hash! O butcher, if you've tears, prepare to shed them now! We look upon your steers, we contemplate your cow; for stews and roasts we yearn, the grub of yesterday, and then in anguish turn and eat a bale of hay. This life seems gray and drear, as some December dawn; the cabbage wagon's here, and we must all climb on. O butcher, spare that mule—thy weapon be accurst! We're making it a rule to eat no wienerwurst; no food our lips shall pass, that's gained by shedding blood; by day we live on grass, by night we chew the cud. We dietary wrecks eat grass, upon our knees, while taller rubbernecks bite branches from the trees. So, butcher, spare that crow that fell into your snare; spring chicken does not go upon our bill of fare. We long for good, lean meat, but longing will not wash; for us the gaudy beet, for us the pallid squash! WALT MASON.

MOMUS KNIGHTS

Dr. Walter S. Ufford spoke on the opportunities for social service in Washington. He presented the different forms of charity work that men could go into to utilize such spare time as they may have, and he suggested various plans of work carried on by the Associated Charities in which men engage.

Miss Mary E. King gave a violin solo, and was followed by Earl Carbaugh with a barytone solo.

Announcement was made by William Knowles Cooper, general secretary of the association in Washington, that next Sunday an address to men will be given tire, usually associated with the squared ring. It was "Uncle" Joseph Cannon and Victor Murdock, in effigy.

They went one gory round to the delight of the banqueters, and the insurgent chief retired to the mat and took the count in Joe Gans' most approved style. The report of the committee on the high cost of living, calling for an investigation on the "cost of high living," was followed by this quartet selection:

Democratic Dinner in This City to Be the Keynote.

HARMON IS FAVORED

HARMONY TALK WILL BE RULE

If Ohioan Is Re-elected Governor's Chances for Presidential Nomination Will Be Certainly Advanced, Say His Rooters Among Southern Democrats-Bryanites May Support.

Marshall, of Indiana; Mayor Gaynor, of New York, and other Democrats whose names have more or less been conspicuously mentioned in connection with the Democratic Presidential nomination will

Before any announcement was made of the plans for the dinner the Democratic National Committee management was onsulted to learn whether it was advisable. Chairman Mack and other Democratic leaders were asked to vise the programme. The speeches at the dinner will sound a keynote for 1912, it is expected.

At the present time Gov, Harmon appears to be in most favor as a Presidential possibility. Southern Democrats to his candidacy than they are to any other yet suggested.

Made Good Impression,

There was much Harmon talk on the ccasion of the governors' conference in Washington in December. He made a good impression. Much will depend on the State campaign in Ohio. If Gov. Harmon is re-elected this fall, his chances for the nomination will be advanced almost to a certainty, say his rooters among the Southern Democrats.

Representative Burleson, of Texas, made joint canvass of the Southern Demoerats in Congress just after the gov ernors' conference. He discovered an overwhelming sentiment for "Harmon and harmony." as he labeled his find. It appears, according to the reports, that while Gov. Harmon, as a former member of President Cleveland's Cabinet, is popuar with the conservative element in the Democratic party, he is commanding nuch support already from friends of William J. Bryan.

The Bryan men, who are interested in making arrangements for the Jefferson Day dinner in Washington, are many of them avowed Harmon men, who say that the Ohio statesman would not be distasteful to their idol as a candidate. Politicians will watch the Jefferson Day dinner and the political results that flow from it with profound interest, and President Taft's friends are said to be not the least interested observers of the ng "Harmon and harmony" love
